

Dr Farideh
Absalan

Dr Farideh Absalan RANZCP is a consultant psychiatrist and a Fellow of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrist since 2010.

She completed her training in Psychiatry at Concord Hospital and has worked in public hospitals across the Sydney including Hornsby, Macquarie and Manly Hospital.

She currently works in a consultation-liaison role at Hornsby Hospital and at her private practice in Eastwood and The Hills Clinic.

Dr Absalan has a special interest in psychodynamic psychotherapy. She uses her expertise in treating patients who suffer from depression, anxiety, personality disorder and childhood trauma. She believes that psychological intervention has a major role in healing and improving mental health problems of many patients who suffer from depression and anxiety.

Dr Absalan is also involved in pharmacological and psychological treatment of adult patients who suffer from a wide range of mental health problems such as major mood disorders (depression, bipolar affective disorder), psychotic illnesses, anxiety, ADHD and OCD.

Dr Absalan speaks fluent Farsi and offers psychiatry services to people who speak the language.
